APRIL, 2024

Chairman's Message

Shubho Nabo Barsho!

In Bengal, we ushered in the Bengali New Year on Poila Baisakh around mid-April. In the rest of India, similar celebrations unfold to herald the spirits of spring. They mark the onset of festivities and new beginnings, symbolising the spirit of renewal and hope.

April is also the month when we honour the sacred observances of Ramadan, Eid, Hanuman Jayanti and Ram Navami, each carrying its own message of faith, compassion, self-control and spiritual renewal. These occasions inspire us to cultivate empathy, kindness, and understanding towards one another, fostering harmony and unity in our diverse community.

As April unfolds, we become increasingly aware and conscious of the magic and might of Mother Nature. The weather gradually shifts from the cool comforts of winter and spring to the heat and sweat of the impending summer.

Spring brings on new leaves and new life, and the approaching summer spells an austere future to navigate through. April prompts us to re-evaluate our relationship with the natural world and strive for sustainability in all our endeavours. The early whispers of summer serve as a poignant reminder of the profound impact of human activity on our climate.

Interestingly, this month, we commemorate Earth Day, a global call to action to protect and preserve our planet. As we reflect on the beauty and fragility of our Earth, we are reminded of our collective responsibility to nurture and safeguard our environment for future generations.

Wish you a wonderful year ahead, filled with happiness and good health.
