MARCH, 2025

Chairman's Message

It's spring. That time of the year when the universe decks up in her most vibrant avatar. The air nurtures the sublime aroma of mango florescence. Nature wakes up from its wintry hibernation, to the tail end of a season of dews and dawns with a soothing chill. Sunsets echo the vermilion red of the blooming rudra-palash. And the balmy evenings play muse to soirees and a simple way of life.

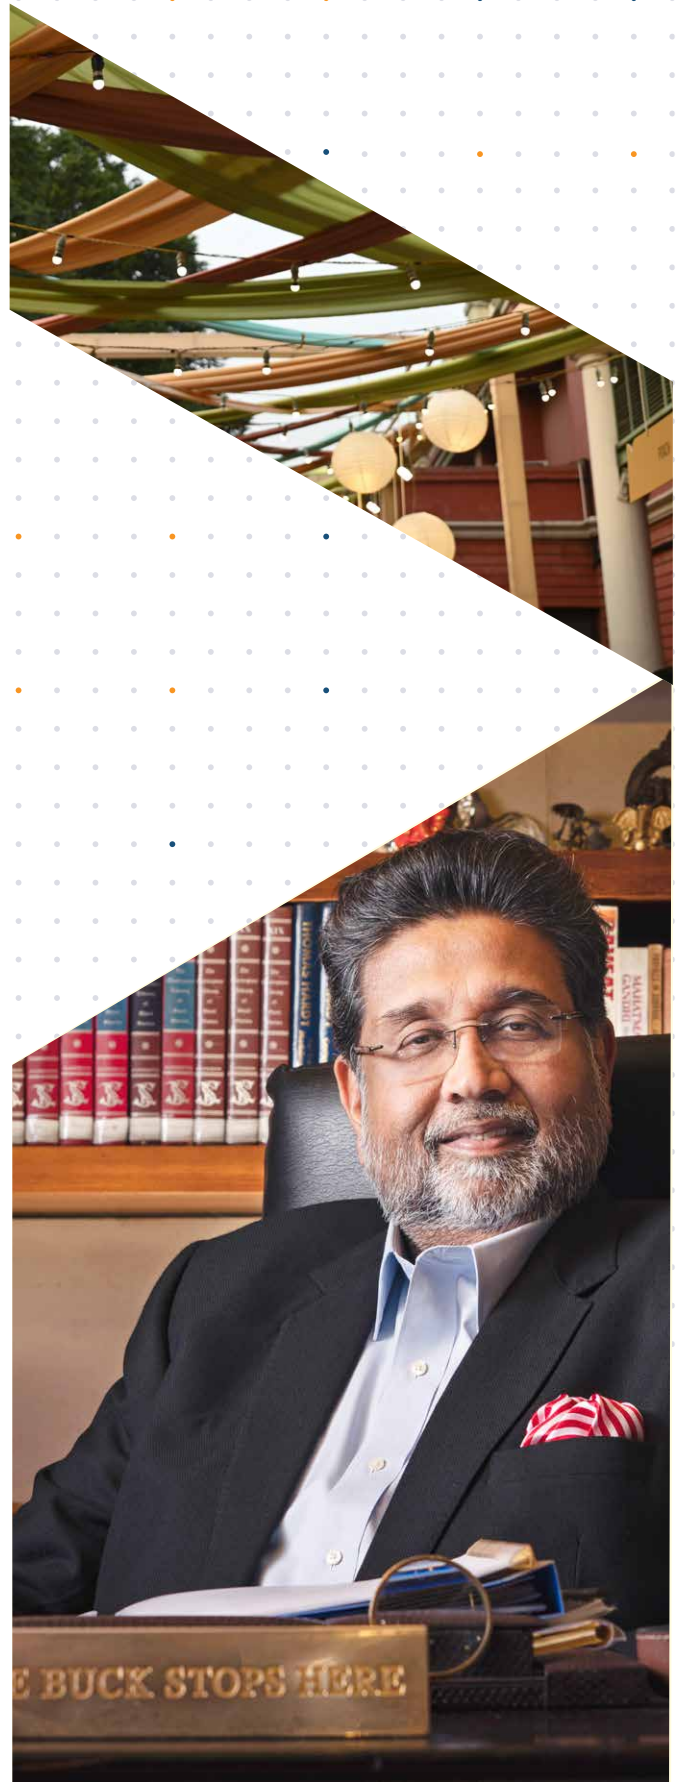

March heralds spring with a burst of colours, reminding us that life, much like the festival of Holi, is best lived with vibrancy, joy, and a spirit of renewal. As winter fully recedes, the world awakens to fresh possibilities — trees don their brightest greens, the air hums with warmth, and hearts open to new beginnings. The festival of colours is more than just playful revelry; it symbolises harmony, the triumph of good over evil, and the beauty of embracing differences to create something truly spectacular.

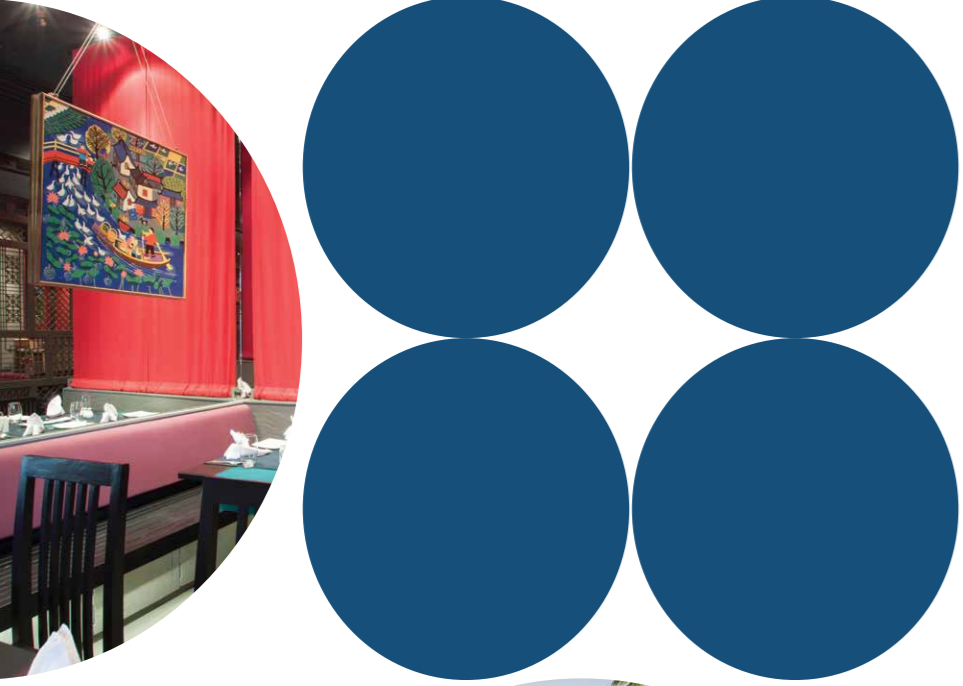

This month also brings with it International Women's Day, celebrating the strength, resilience, and boundless contributions of women across every sphere of life. Whether leading with vision, nurturing with wisdom, or creating with passion, women shape our homes, workplaces, and societies in ways both profound and inspiring.

March urges us to believe that true progress is rooted in inclusivity and transformation. Spring inspires us to empower, uplift, and celebrate the human spirit. As we step into a season of renewal, let's carry forward the lessons of Holi — the joy of unity, the courage to embrace change, and the belief that every shade, every story, and every voice adds beauty to the bigger picture.

Here's to a month of celebration, inspiration, and the boundless possibilities of spring... Basanta eshe gachhe!

The India Story 2025: A Decade of Design, Dreams, and Dialogue

Some stories are meant to be lived, not just told. They unfold in colours and conversations, in the rhythm of creativity and the heartbeat of a shared dream. The India Story, a Neotia Arts Trust Initiative, is one such narrative — an evolving canvas of art, design, fashion, music, and thought, brought to life by the visionary Madhu Neotia.

This year, the 10th edition of The India Story unfolded with grandeur, marking a decade of artistic brilliance. Set against the striking backdrop of Swabhumi, Kolkata, the event was a testament to the journey it has undertaken — what started as an inspired vision by Madhu Neotia has now become an institution in itself, a much-anticipated annual celebration of India's finest talents in art, fashion, crafts, and design.

The Grand Opening: A Visual Symphony

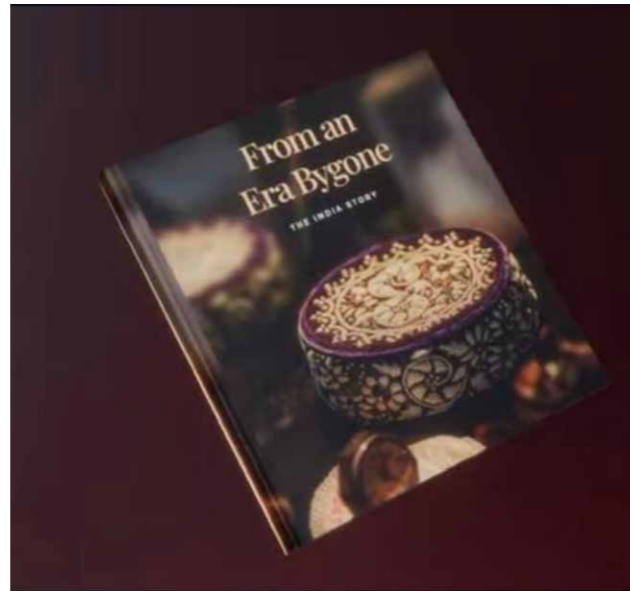

An immersive opening ceremony juxtaposing experience with spectacular visuals woven in rich cultural narratives and thought-provoking installations ushered in the three-day carnival in January 2025.

Opening the milestone edition of TIS was none other than couturier Amit Aggarwal, whose showcase blended past and future in a breathtaking fusion of tradition and innovation. His Benarasi Edit — first introduced at the Hyundai India Couture Week 2024, an initiative by FDCI — were reimaged on an even grander scale. Structured drapes, sculptural silhouettes, and a bold interplay of heritage weaves with contemporary design defined his collection.

The Book Launch: From An Era Bygone

A defining moment of this year's celebration was the launch of the maiden book by Neotia Arts Trust, "From An Era Bygone", a compendium that celebrates the legacy of heirloom textiles. A compilation by the founder of The India Story, Madhu Neotia, "From An Era Bygone" is a paean to the family's curated collection of textiles conserved and treasured across generations of nurturing caregivers. An intricate melange of photographs, textures and anecdotes by stalwarts like Tarun Tahiliani, Anamika Khanna, Ashdeen Lilaowala, Shefalee Vasudev, Anjan Chakraverty and Madhu Neotia herself makes the volume a true treasure for any design lover.

The launch event saw an illustrious panel — including Anjan Chakraverty, Radhikaraje Gaekwad, Ashdeen Z. Lilaowala, Tarun Tahiliani, and Madhu Neotia — come together to unveil this exquisite compilation.

As a subject, it is very close to my heart. It is something that has a very deep personal connection and during every step of this process, I have felt guided by the elders of our family. It is my way of paying tribute to our ancestors, an ode to the legacy they have nurtured for us to carry forward. I hope this inspires the younger generation to cherish this timeless heritage," shared Madhu Neotia with Indian Express Indulge recently.

Following the ceremonial launch at The India Story, the book has travelled to the prestigious India Art Fair in New Delhi in February this year, where a capsule edit from the collection was showcased for a myriad audience at the national capital.

Through TISA, The India Story continues to promote, preserve and nurture India's rich creative ecosystem, honouring those who shape its future while staying rooted in its past.

The Many Layers of TIS 2025

Beyond the book launch, The India Story 2025 unfolded as a multi-sensory experience. The thoughtfully curated exhibits featured a mix of renowned and emerging names, each pushing the boundaries of design while staying rooted in tradition.

Engaging panel discussions, live craft demonstrations, and interactive experiences made the event more than just an exhibition — it was a living, breathing space where ideas were exchanged, and new creative paths were forged.

The presence of stalwarts across industries added depth to the experience, making TIS not just a visual and artistic delight but also a platform for meaningful conversations. The seamless interplay of fashion, craft, art, and design reinforced the festival's ethos — honouring the past, celebrating the present, and shaping the future.

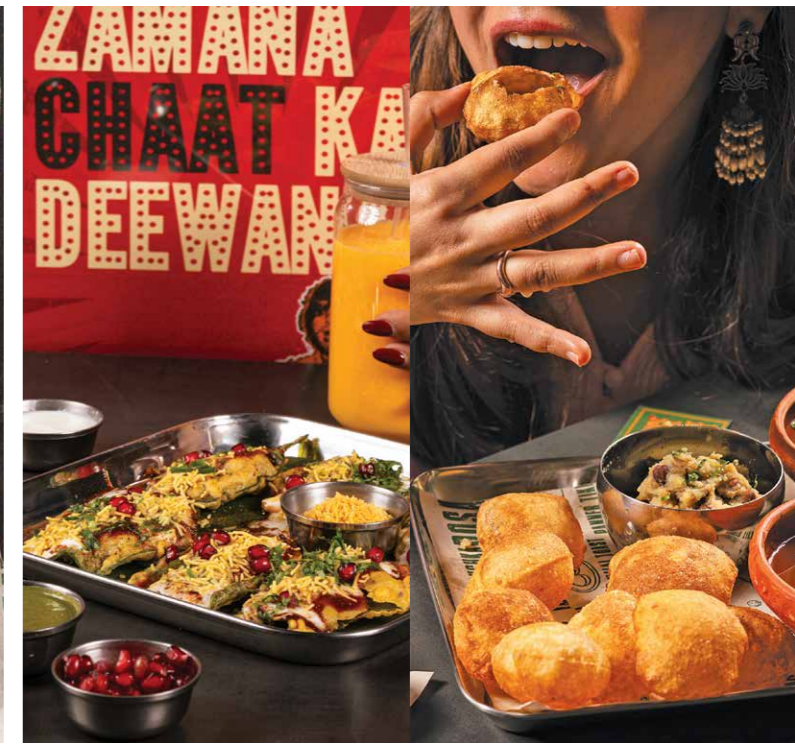

A Vision That Lives On

The India Story is a legacy. It began as an honest vision, a dream pursued passionately by Madhu Neotia and has now grown to become a pioneering platform, championing the best of Indian design and innovation.

The India Story went beyond the celebration of a milestone; it is the momentum for a culture continuum — one that champions Indianness, manifested in creative indigenous talent and redefines the way we experience design in its various forms. It is a space where creators and dreamers find resonance, where conversations spark change, and where art continues to be a living, breathing entity that connects us all.

ZAMANA A Celebration of khao • piyo • muskurao
Indian Street Food in Kolkata

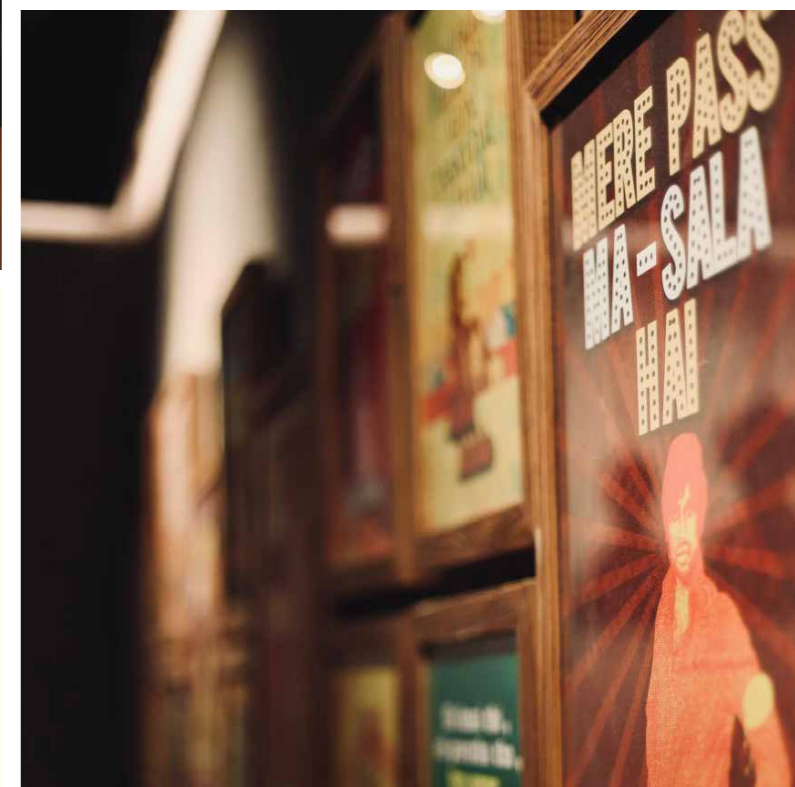

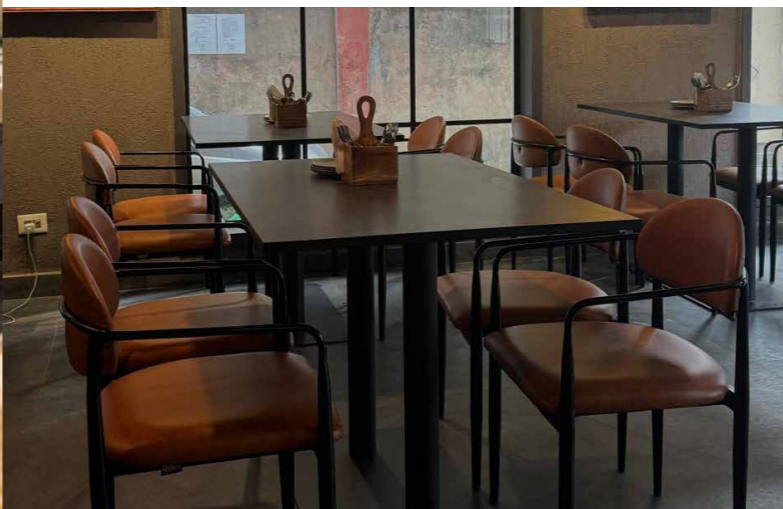

Kolkata's culinary landscape has welcomed an exciting new addition with the launch of Zamana at 66 Sarat Bose Road. This latest offering from Ambuja Neotia Group is a tribute to India's vibrant street food culture, blending bold flavours, nostalgic favourites, and a Bollywood-themed dining experience.

Conceptualised by Paroma Neotia, Zamana is an 80-seater vegetarian eatery that has already captured attention with its diverse menu featuring chaats and other Indian street food, and a dedicated Jain selection. From fiery chaats to tandoori delights, every dish is crafted to delight the senses, set against a lively backdrop of Bollywood beats and retro aesthetics.

"I felt we have stopped celebrating Indian chaats and street food the way it's done elsewhere. After a night out, we crave desi food; when it rains, we long for chai-pakoras. Zamana is about recreating that vibe in a more hygienic way, especially post-COVID when people have become more conscious. There is nothing fancy here — just like a street doesn't judge you, neither do we. Whether you arrive in a Mercedes or on foot, whether you dine solo or in a group, Zamana is a leveller — accessible and affordable for all," shared Paroma Neotia in a conversation with The Telegraph t2.

From the hand-painted Om Shanti Om dialogue on the wall to the tagline "Khao Piyo Muskurao," Zamana radiates positive and fun energy, making it a place for families, friends, and all generations to come together over timeless food. The menu boasts Palak Patta Chaat, Jini Dosa Rolls, Club Kachori with Aloo ki Sabzi, Tangy Tamatar Chaat, Tibetan Veg Momos, and Zamana Pav Bhaji, alongside refreshing non-alcoholic beverages like Amritsari Sweet Lassi, Iced Lattes, Soda Shikanji, and Chai.

With its nostalgic flavours, inclusive ethos, and a lively ambience, Zamana is set to redefine Kolkata's love for Indian street food in a delish and contemporary way.

Fighting cancer for rural women

Team CSR of Ambuja Neotia, in collaboration with Chittaranjan National Cancer Institute (CNCI), recently conducted a comprehensive cancer awareness and screening camp in Punya village, near Raichak, reaching out to 70 rural women. The initiative focused on both preventive and curative measures, including awareness sessions through audio-visual aids, oncologist consultations, instant mammography, and cervical screening — all conducted on the same day.

A mobile integrated mammography clinic from CNCI facilitated mammography tests, while Dr. Manisha Vernekar, a renowned oncologist, led the awareness sessions and provided consultations. As a gesture of care, all participating women received a hygiene kit containing sanitary napkins, fruit, and other essentials, packaged in handmade paper bags.

The most impactful aspect of this initiative is its long-term support — any woman diagnosed with cancer through this camp will receive free treatment at CNCI hospitals in Kolkata, covering chemotherapy, radiation, or surgery. Given that cervical and breast cancers are among the leading causes of death in women today, this camp provided life-saving interventions. Encouraged by its success, the programme is set to be replicated in other villages in the near future.
