SEPTEMBER, 2024

Chairman's Message

As we step into September, we are greeted by a sense of anticipation for brighter autumn days ahead, serving as a prelude to a time of joy, devotion, and cultural exuberance.

The month begins with the celebration of Teacher's Day, a special occasion to express our deep gratitude to the mentors who shape our minds and character, guiding us through the challenges of life.

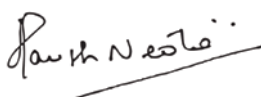

Ganesh Chaturthi follows soon after, when devotees are reminded of the importance of beginning new ventures with focus and determination, seeking divine blessings for success and peace.

Onam, the harvest festival celebrated primarily in Kerala, marks a time of abundance, gratitude, and community togetherness. It teaches us the importance of living in harmony with nature and cherishing the simple yet profound joys of life, such as family, community, and shared traditions.

Engineer's Day and Vishwakarma Puja are observed in succession, reminding us the contribution of innovators and problem-solvers, of engineers and architects, of science and technology in our daily lives. This is a month that emphasizes the importance of craftsmanship, precision, and dedication in every task we undertake.

September offers a profound opportunity for spiritual devotion and self-discipline. It is a time to look inward, practice mindfulness, and reflect on our life's path, guided by loyalty to our values and purpose.

As we journey through this month of reflection and celebration, let us embrace the lessons of gratitude, spiritual devotion, and craftsmanship. May these values guide us in both our personal and professional lives, inspiring us to strive for excellence, nurture our connections, and seek harmony in all that we wish to create and experience!

Tribute to the iconic architect V.B. Doshi

Balkrishna Vithaldas Doshi, a visionary architect, urban planner, academican, and mystic, believed that architecture's true essence lies in its experiential quality—the rasa, the intangible element that imbues a space with enduring memory.

His philosophy of community living, inclusion, and aesthetics has profoundly shaped the ethos of the Ambuja Neotia Group over three decades of collaboration. One of his most notable projects, Udayan in Kolkata's New Town, is the city's first condoville, developed in a private-public partnership. Launched in 1992 and completed by 2002, Udayan set new standards in social housing and was recognized as a model project by HUDCO.

As a tribute to the beloved mentor and his enduring legacy, the Ambuja Neotia Parivaar presented the B.V. Doshi Memorial Exhibition held from August 30 to September 15, at Swabhumi. This exhibition celebrated Doshi's extraordinary life and work by showcasing the talents of architects whose visions echo his commitment to excellence and human-centered design.

The exhibition showcased works by Neelkanth Chhaya, Sohan Nilkanth, and Kallol Joshi — three architects from Gujarat — paying homage to the legendary architect who was also their close associate, B.V. Doshi. All three architects were influenced by Doshi's teachings and worked with him or his associates.

At the opening ceremony, Neelkanth Chhaya and Sohan Nilkanth presented their various projects across India. Kallol Joshi was unable to attend due to heavy rain in Vadodara.

The exhibition showcased the architectural thought of these three architect friends who have collaborated for over a decade. Their work reflects the significant social, political, economic, and cultural changes in India from the 1980s to the present, which have influenced the practice of architecture, including urban development and housing.
